

Badger class have enjoyed their learning this term. We have learnt so much about World War 2 and have produced some brilliant writing as a result. In English, we wrote amazing diary entries as Evacuees and really enjoyed reading the classic novel, Good Night Mister Tom. In History, we learnt about the effect that WW2 had on England and about rationing. In Maths, we learnt how to rounding numbers to 10, 100s and 1000s and also revised our arithmetic skills ready for our tests. In P.E, we learnt new rugby skills and enjoyed our hockey session too! Finally in R.E, we learnt all about the Holy Trinity and Incarnation and represented the Holy Trinity as abstract artwork.

Next term, we look forward to learning all about Africa. We will immerse ourselves in this new topic by reading the Butterfly Lion by Michael Morpurgo and write our own discursive texts on poaching. In P.E, we will be learning to swim and sequencing routines in gymnastics. In RE, we will be learning bout Buddhism and what Dharma means to Buddhists. What another great term of learning ahead of us, where we are sure many golden memories will be made!
